

top 10

things to do this week

by anna dupas

Earful of Info

Amazing little multi-taskers that they are, cell phones make calls, take photos and send text messages — and now they can even be used for self-guided audio tours! Thanks to a new mobile service called MetroCode, you can use your cell to get the scoop on the 30 sculptures displayed around town as part of the Vancouver Sculpture Biennale. Forget a dry recitation of facts; you'll hear local actors Ellie Harvie (The New Addams Family) and Richard Side (Elf) exchanging smart remarks peppered with educational info about the artwork, the artists and their inspiration. Just dial 604-638-2661 on your cell, punch in the sculpture's three-digit code, and sit back and listen.